she would not admit it, hit upon the curious device of putting a steaming hot egg under each of her armpits and tying her arms down over them until the torture made her confess the theft. Then he had her arrested. In theft. Then he had her arrested. In the prison the girl begged for something to relieve the pain of the burns, and in that way the method by which her confession was extorted was revealed. The shoemaker was prosecuted and sentenced to two year's imprisonment. He appealed, and the appellate court made his sentence three years. In Sinzig there was a case analogous to that of Caleb Cushing, who, in Washington, applied to the courts for relief against the barking of a dog that in the night disturbed his studies. In this case it was a young heifer that bellowed at night when hungry, and seems to have been hungry very often. A gentle-

In Germany this is made a criminal offence, quacks not being allowed to impose upon the public there. The offender was convicted, notwithstanding an incenious defence. In Pesth, Hungary, genious defence. In Pesth, Hungary, Chief Rabbi Stern, in 1873, divorced a Jewish married couple according to the Mosaic law, but the sanction of the civil authorities was not obtained. The parties having remarried, they were prosecuted for bigamy, and the rabbi was arraigned with them, at first as an accessory, but afterward only on a charge of abusing the powers of his rabbinical office. After various vicis situdes, convictions, appeals, and reversals, the court of last resort has adjudged the charge of bigamy not proven. but fined all the defendants for violating the statutes. This case awakened much interest, and provoked a controversy that has not yet subsided.

his innocence would be made apparent in court; but in that he was mistaken, for he had confessed so plausibly that the jury convicted him, and he has gone to state prison on a five years' sentence. His case is before the Governor.

The Scenery in a French Theatre.

The Porte St. Martin is the Paris theatre from which comes at second hand the scenery for many of the spectacular pieces produced in this country. The Porte St. Martin stage is at present occupied by "Cinderella." One of the most novel effects is a view of the royal palace illuminated for the festival, while from the building and down a wide staircase rush a hundred guests in pursuit of the flying Cinderella, each bearing a colored lantern. Another is a lake by moonlight, the water being represented by immense mirrore laid flat on the stage, reflecting the grass and trees along the edge with perfect naturalness.

THE NEVADA CENTRAL.

The First Section of the Road to be Opened Next Monday — A Ball in Honor of the Event.

L. S. Foster, secretary of General Ledlie, the contractor of the Nevada Central railroad, arrived in Reno last night. He informed a GAZETTE reporter that forty miles of the road have been graded, and twenty miles of track are aiready laid. Track laying is going forward at the rate of a mile a day. Gen. Ledlie is pushing the work with all possible speed. The section of the road between Battle Mountain and Mound Springs, 21 miles long, will be opened for traffic next Monday, Nov. 3. Cluggage & Parker's stages will connect at Mound Springs for Austin. The whole road will be opened for business by New Years. Its exact length will be 92½ miles. THE SUSANVILLE RACES.

A Full Report.

From Our Own Correspondent

The Fair opened to-day with a good attendance and fair weather. The first race was one-half mile heats, two in three. Purse $100; $75 to the first horse, $25 to second. Wm. Dow enhorse, $25 to second. Wm. Dow enters s. g. Stranger; Mat Allen, b. m. Madge Duke, G. M. Stratton, s. g. Brick Pomeroy; A. Day, b. m. Nell. Madge Duke was the favorite in the pools, Stranger second, Pomeroy third. The Judges of the races were Capt. C. A. Merrill, W. Brockman and J. C. Caleman, Timers, Inc. There J. C. Coleman. Timers, Jno. Thompson and C. M. Winthrop. Stranger took the first heat, Nell second, Madge Duke third, Pomeroy fourth. Time, 5:01/2. In the pools, after this heat, Madge Duke was still first choice. Madge Duke took the second heat by a good neck, Stranger second, Pomeroy third, Nell distanced for foul riding, complaint being made by Stranger's trainer. He wanted to withdraw, but not being allowed he tions at the pole. Stranger not being on hand, the starters turned them loose. Meantime loud complaints were made by Stranger's backers, and the Judges ordered the Sheriff to bring the horse to the track. Madge Duke and Pomeroy ran through amid Confusion. After a long consultation Madge Duke was given the heat and race. Time, :52. Stranger and his trainer were ruled off of the track.

THE SECOND RACE was trotting for the 2:50 class, mile heats, three in five, for the District use of $200; $125 to first, $75 to second. E. V. Spencer enters b. m. Belle Spencer; C. C. Powning, bk g. Surprise; Wm. McCoy br. g. Proctor. Belie Spencer was first in the pools, Proctor second; $20 to $6 were about the average on the two favorites. The horses got a good send off. Proctor won, cut out the work, and took the heat, Surprise second, Belle Speacer third. Time, 2:43½. Belle Spencer took the second heat, Surprise second, Proctor third. Proctor's friends laid in a complaint of the driver throwing off the race. After due deliberation, the Judges took Wynn off and put on Tim Canady. The horses got a good start for the third heat, Proctor taking the lead, and heat, Surprise second, Belle Spencer third. Time, 2.35. The fourth heat was a repetition of the third and first, Proctor taking the heat and race, Surprise second, Belle Spencer third. Time, 2:36. This ended the first day's races. Considerable dissatisfaction exists among the sports, about the manne in which the races were run.

A DRAMATIC COMPANY IN TOWN. The Wilton troupe is here. Monday night they played "Lost in London" to a good house. Wilton is California's favorite light comedian. has fourteen in his company. Mr. Rice's banjo solos are good. Harry Howard in his songs and dances is Harry excellent. Harry Eagan, the stout man, is all he is represented. Taking the troupe as a whole they are unsurpassed. They will give an entertainment each night this week. Julian. Susanville, Oct. 28th.

SACRAMENTO NOTES-

Weather-The New Time Card-

The weather has thus far been unnaturally warm in this neighborhood, and there is much sickness in consequence. Business has been very satsfactory this month in nearly all branches. The crowd during the Grant reception was much larger than any during the State Fair.

The railroad company expect to middle of November. No.'s 3 and 4 ginia and overland travel all going on No.'s 1 and 2 after that time. No. 1 will leave San Francisco about 3 30 P. M. and reach Reno in time for breakfast at 7 A. M. No. 2 will reach Reno about 8 P. M., or a trifle later, and San Francisco about 11 A.M., taking supper at Chamberlain's in

The friends of a certain rich young lady from the country are very indig-nant at the treatment she has received firmly against the piano, retaining a at a certain seminary in this city. Some time last winter one of her schoolmates found a letter between ment with his left hand, and keeping the leaves of her book which was intended for a young gentleman. The first the crowd bore up heavily against him, but order was soon restored, and being contrary to the rules of the es-

His Reception Yesterday.

THE WHOLE TOWN TURNS OUT CREET HIM.

The Speeches in The Theater—Fifteen Hundred Persons Shake the General's Hand—Mrs. Grant's Reception—Inci-dents of the Occasion—What Was Said of Grant-The Party Depart for the

The people of Reno yesterday awoke from their apparent indifference concerning Grant and his movements. No announcement had been made by the reception committee of what would be done in honor of the General on his arrival, and many eager inquiries were made throughout the day as to where the talked of reception would be held, etc. Early in the day flags were displayed on every staff in the town and many of the stores were decorated. The front of Strasburger & Co.'s establishment was handsomely & Co.'s establishment was handsomely adorned for the occasion. The Depot Hotel was gay with bunting, and little flags bearing the stars and stripes fluttered from every available point of attachment. As early as half past three o'clock a large crowd had gathered about the depot. As the time of arrival drew near, among the hur rying throng might be seen many a man who had said that he would not go two steps to see Grant.

THE CHINESE caught the general enthusiasm, and half an hour before the train came in their gongs were being vigorously pounded, and the strains of their fiddles were fleating up from the quarter they inhabit. Senator Powning and J. Schooling of the reception committee went up to Steamboat early in the afternoon and came down in the the afternoon and came down in the special train with the Grant party. On the way through the meadows Senator Powning devoted himself to the General, pointing out the objects of interest on the road, directing his attention to the agricultural resources of the valley, and keeping Grant in-terested and amused until the train pulled into the station. As the train cossed the bridge the first report of a salute of twenty-one anvils was heard, and the Rene brass band poured forth enlivening strains of martial music. General Grant was at once escorted to the Nevada Theater oppoite the depot, and was seated on the platform in company with Senator Powning, Governor Kinkead, Mayor Young of Virginia, J. Schooling, Capt. Bragg, and Wm. Webster of the recep tion committee. The crowd began pour-ing into the theatre, and in a few min-ntes it was filled to its utmost capac-ity. When quiet had been restored, Senator Powning arose and gracefully delivered the following neat and ap-

ADDRESS OF WELCOME. GENERAL GRANT:-Our people welcome you to Reno, and thank you most heartily for the compliment you have shown them in consenting to remain for a brief period, in order that we might have an opportunity of seeing you and of shaking you by the hand. We hope you will have a pleasant journey home and be preserved to the nation that you may serve your country as illustriously in the future as in the past. [Applause.]

GRANT'S REPLY. LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:-It affords me very great pleasure to see this bright spot in Nevada. I was not under the expectation of seeing such an agricultural land as appears here run by way of the big ferry by the so tavorably. We know what Nevada has done and is doing to bring about will then be dispensed with, the Virand to bring about and preserve the resumption of specie payments so long deferred. [Applause.] I thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for the greeting you have given me. [Applause.]

THE GENERAL HAND SHAKING was next in order, the ex-Presi dent standing on the floor of the hall near the stage until the the close of the ceremony. He braced himself secure hold on the edge of the instruhis right extended for business. At being contrary to the rules of the establishment for any of the pupils to have correspondence with members of the opposite sex, the young lady was punished by being shut up in her room for a week. The room was without fire of any kind, the only heating apparatus for the dormitories in this mod! institution being a stove in the hall. The door being shut and looked, the peor girl naturally suffered considerably from cold, and as her health for the time being was delicate, she contracted a severe cold, from which she is now dying a lingering death.

Sacramento, Oct. 29th. If a child was carried past him, as if too little to notice, he would reach out and gently press its little flipper. The reception in the theatre occupied about forty minutes.

HOW GRANT LOOKED.

Grant seemed to impress everyone with his modesty. It is patural to prose that a man who has been so ig in public life and received such distinguished honors would exhibit some degree of vanity and a sense of his own importance. But nothing of the sort appeared in his manner. On the platform he were a diffident, almost a bashful expression, and looked as if he would be glad to get out of the whole business. . He shook hands with the people as if he regarded it as a matter of duty, which, although as a matter of duty, which, although somewhat irksome, he was conscientiously determined to fulfil. The man's appearance was decidedly preposeesing. Although 57 years old, he would pass for about 45. His face is open, frank and good natured. Though not a very intellectual looking person, his countenance gave the ession of strong common sense. His manners were quiet, gentle and easy, and there was nothing of the stern, determined and invincible sol-

BRIEF DIALOGUES.

During the reception some one said "Do you not get tired of hand shakng, General?

"Yes," he answered. Some one asked him if he were not tired of being a great man.
"I am tired of so much hand shak ing," he replied.

VIEWING THE TOWN.

After the ceremonial muscular contractions had been gone through with, Grant was driven about the town in an open carriage, attended by several of the committee, Senator Powning holding the lines. In crossing the Virginia street bridge, Senator Powning explained that it was necessary to walk the horses or they would be fined. GRANT TELLS A STORY.

"Yes, that's right," said Grant, "I as once fined, myself, for fast driving. It was in Washington, just after the war. I was driving a good horse through one of the back streets, and was going along pretty fast. By and bye I was pulled up by a policeman, and taken into court to answer to the charge of fast driving. Four or five fellows went along with us as witnesses, each expecting to pocket a witness' fee of $1 50. I made up my mind to beat those chaps, and wher called to answer the charge, I told the Conrt that I kad a good horse, and thought he had been making pretty good time. 'All right,' said the Dutch Justice, 'I vines you vive dollars.' I paid the fine, and had a good laugh at the witnesses, who looked badly sold."

room car, where she received several hundred ladies. The general committee had appointed a delegation of ladies, consisting of Mrs. B. F. Leete, Mrs. C. C. Powning, Mrs. J. H. Kin-kead, Mrs. C. T. Bender and Mrs. W. R. Jenvey, to attend Mrs. Grant. They did what they could to make her brief stay pleasant, presenting her with a profusion of fresh flowers They also had a carriage in waiting or Mrs Grant, but she did not wish to leave the car. She is described as a pleasant, motherly sort of a little oman, with no nonsense about her The youthful Ulysses remained in the car with his mother, and of course received a liberal share of attention from the ladies. THE CEREMONIES CONCLUDED. Grant diverted himself by standing or the rear platform of the train, and taking a look around. Quite a number of persons brought their hands up to him to be shaken, and the General got sufficient exercise in that way to seep from catching cold, and to starpen his appetite for the dinner fortitude. One individual came up and offered him a cigar. Although Grant was not smoking at the time, the offer was politely declined. "Got plenty inside, thank you," said Grant, pointing into the car Grant made a good impression on this community. The remarks made on the street about him were uniformly complimentary to his character. "He looks honest," one man said. "A looks honest," one man said. "A brave old boy," remarked another. One man, in describing Grant said, to give an idea of his unassuming manner: "If you saw him going along the street and didn't know who he was, you would take him for some farmer that was pretty well-fixed." Judge Webster, who talked with Grant while he was being shown the town, says that Grant is "a good conversational ist," and a pleasant, jovial companion. In spite of his reputation for reticence ms that Grant can talk when h feels like it.

The Grant party made a stay here occurred to mar the feeling of general harmony. But one fellow squeezed the General's hand in such a way as the General's hand in such a why as to cause him positive pain. Grant felt his injured hand, and looked after the departing form of the offend-er with an expression of sorrow. The regret expressed in his face was prob-ably due to the consideration that he could not kick through the crowd and the proprieties and give the fellow a lesson that he needs. Grant's reception came from no single class or political party, but from the peo-ple. The poor and the well-to-do alike turned out to greet him, and there were both black and white men there were both black and white men among those who shook him by the hand. One yellew one, too, was honored by the touch of Grant's spaim. But another Mongolian, who appeared in the crowd, was discreetly turned aside by the interposition of the cane of one of the members of the committee. Judging by the noise made in the Asiatic quarter of the town yesterday, the Mongolians evidently think Grant is sound on the Chinese question.

WADSWORTH'S WELCOME.

ors to Grant at Wadsw

Some time before the special train

bearing General Grant and party arrired here, Wadsworth had turned ou en masse to catch a glimpse of the hero. The train arrived at this point at 6:85 band of ten pieces, played "Hail to the Chief" and the old cannon belched forth a royal salute. General Grant stepped to the rear platform of the drawing room car, and was pleasantly introduced to us by J. A. Filmore, master of transportation of the C. P. R. R. The silent man then gave us the opportunity of shaking his hand, which, as a married man remarked, is as soft as a lady's cheek. One man, who had a little of the anti-temperance spirit in charge of his person, raised his hand and in distinct Saxon cried out: "General Wadsworth ex tends to you her congratulations And Madame Dave, a dusky matro of the Piute tribe, gave the big chief's hand a hearty shake. JEWELRY

The above offer 12 genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible. We will explain: Since we first established our business here. March Jet, 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Bankrupt and Auction lots of Jewelry and Watches often buying at as low as one-tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one sixth the manufacturers' price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and through our regular customers throughout the country at mearly regular prices, as fast as we could precure them, but owing to the large number of failures among the heaviest dealers and manuacturers throughout this and other committees during the mouths of June, July and August (the time when the jewelry business is stagoant), we have now on hand an immense stock of the most desirable goods we have ever handled, and which we have bought at lower prices than ever before. In order to dispose of this entire stock in the most speedy manner possible, and make room for new ones which we shall continue to buy, we have ht upon the following novel plan:

We propose to give you a list of the most desirable of these goods, giving opposite each article its regular retail value, and sell to you at the rate of Five Dollars' worth for $1. For instance, on receipt of $0 cts. we will rend you, Postrath, any article to the value of $3, and so on throughout the entire list. Below we give a list of the most valuable of these goods.

"We call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of the Inventors' Agency, No. 116 E. Washington street, Chicago. What the Inventors' Agency arcees to do. they will do. The Sentinel has advertised for the concern since its first problication, and we have yet to hear of the first complaint against it."

The Chicago Express, Sept. 3, says: "The attention of readers is called to the advertisement of The Inventors' Agency, office and rooms located at 116 Washington St. Chicago. Prom personal inquiry and on the recommendation of the city press, we think our friends can do no better when wanting goods in that line. Give them a trial "

The American Stockman, Sept. 11, says: "We believe this institution perfectly sound and reponsible, and consequently persons need have no heattation about sending for what they desire."
